

ER 62-1328/a
1329/a

Colonel Matthew C. Stewart
Acting Assistant Commandant
U.S. Army Intelligence School
Fort Holabird
Baltimore 19, Maryland

Dear Colonel Stewart:

Mr. McCone has asked me to acknowledge and thank you very much for your letters of 28 February concerning the talks made by [redacted] at the U.S. Army Intelligence School.

We are always glad to learn of the performance of our people and appreciate your courtesy in writing to us about this. For the information of [redacted], I am bringing your respective letters to their attention.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
Assistant to the Director

O/DCI/[redacted]:rap(7 Mar 62)

Distribution:

Orig. & 1 - Addr

1 - AAB

1 - [redacted] via DD/S w/basic (ER 62-1329)

1 - [redacted] via DD/I w/basic (ER 62-1328)

1 - ER w/cpy basic

62-338

28 February 1962

Mr. John A. McCone
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

The U. S. Army Intelligence School is most appreciative of your courtesy in making possible the effective period of instruction presented at Fort Holabird by [ ] on 15 February 1962, to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Courses.

STAT

STAT

[ ] discussion of the origin and mechanics of the production of national intelligence estimates, as well as of problems experienced in the production and utilization of these estimates by the U. S. Government, was a most useful complement to the training of our students and the Staff and Faculty, please accept my thanks for your assistance in our training endeavors and please convey to [ ] my sincere appreciation.

STAT

Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART
Colonel, Infantry
Acting Asst Commandant

62-1329

28 February 1962

Mr. John A. McGone
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McGone:

STAT It is a pleasure to express the appreciation of the U. S. Army Intelligence School for an extremely interesting presentation by [ ] STAT
[ ] on 13 February 1962 to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Course at Fort Holabird.

STAT [ ] lecture impressed our students with the importance of Strategic Intelligence and afforded them a lucid understanding of the manner in which this intelligence is used at the national level. His interesting illustrations, based on actual operations, effectively highlighted and considerably enhanced the presentation. These senior intelligence officers will go to their future assignments with a much better appreciation of how they might contribute to the overall requirements of the U. S. intelligence community.

STAT Thank you for making [ ] available to give this presentation and please convey to him my sincere appreciation.

Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART
Colonel, Infantry
Acting Asst Commandant

62-1326

23 February 1962

Mr. John A. McCone
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

It is a pleasure to express the appreciation of the U. S. Army Intelligence School for the informative and interesting lecture presented at Fort Holabird on 14 February 1962 by [redacted] to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Courses. STAT

STAT

[redacted] detailed discussion of the origin and operations of the National Intelligence Survey Program, together with his review of the mechanics of survey preparation and participation in the program by other Federal agencies, provided extremely valuable instruction to these senior intelligence officers. These classes, who have been and will continue to be constant users of the NIS product, were appreciative and enlightened by this able presentation.

Thank you for making [redacted] available to give this lecture and please extend to him my sincere appreciation. It is hoped we shall be privileged to have him address future classes here at the Intelligence School. STAT

Sincerely yours,

MATTHEW C. STEWART
Colonel, Infantry
Acting Asst Commandant

62-7327

28 February 1962

Mr. John A. McCone
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langely, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

STAT The favorable comments I have received concerning the presentation by [redacted], on 14 February 1962, to personnel attending the Intelligence Collection Staff Officer and Military Intelligence Officer Career Courses, indicate that it was one of the highlights of the academic training programmed for these students here at Fort Holabird.

STAT [redacted] lecture afforded these classes a lucid understanding of CIA field organization, war planning, and services of the Agency which are available to military agencies, and the material presented should be of high value to the military intelligence staff officer. The intellectual honesty of the speaker in discussing problem areas in clandestine intelligence and in CIA-U.S. Army relationships was particularly appreciated.

Thank you for your courtesy in making [redacted] available to give this presentation and please convey to him my sincere appreciation. It is hoped that we shall be privileged to have him address future classes at the Intelligence School. STAT

Sincerely,

MATTHEW C. STEWART
Colonel, Infantry
Acting Asst Commandant